FEARS FOR MOURNERS

Military Board Arrives to Fix
Blame for Killings—25
to 40 Dead.

CHICAGO, June 24.—Counsel for the Southern Illinois Coal Company, whose strike mine was burned Thursday and non-union workers slain by striking miners and sympathizers to-day sent a telegram to Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black at Springfield requesting that troops be sent to Williamson County.

The attorneys charged that the Sheriff of the county was still refusing to do his duty and that there was danger of further outbreaks.

Illinois troops held themselves in readiness to-day to leave on a moment's notice for the coal fields of "Bloody" Williamson County.

Transportation arrangements, made yesterday following Gov. Small's orders to mobilize, remained in effect to-day as an immediate departure could be made on orders to entrain for Southern Illinois.

Among the requests to the Governor for troops was that of William J. Lester, President of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, whose strike mine at Herrin was the storm center of Wednesday's riots.

Mr. Lester said that soldiers were needed to assure proper burial of the massacre victims and to act as guards for mourners, against whom it was feared the wrath of striking miners might be directed.

"No relative or friend of any of the dead is safe under present conditions at Herrin," he said. "I cannot conceive that such atrocities as the massacre of my employees could occur in America."

HERRIN, Ill., June 24 (Associated Press).—A State military investigation of the Lester mine massacre, which took between twenty-five and forty lives, was begun to-day by a board headed by Major Gen. Milton Foreman of the State Militia, acting under orders from Gov. Len Small which were issued when the Chief Executive became aroused over failure of local officials to take any steps against the miners who captured and killed the majority of strikebreakers working in the strip mine.

Gen. Foreman and his committee reached here this morning. They were met by Col. Samuel Hunter of the Adjutant General's office, who has been here since before the massacre. Gen. Foreman and the officers accompanying him proceeded to Marion, the county seat, where conferences with State Attorney Delous L. Duty and Sheriff Thaxton were planned.

The commission of inquiry went at once to the wrecked mine.

From the ruined mine the commission went down a road of debris where the victorious mob which stormed the mine dragged its prisoners for two miles and a half before shooting them.

The commission returned to Herrin and questioned mine union officials and peace officers. It will hold hearings also in Marion and expects to conclude its investigations and return to Chicago to-night.

Gen. Foreman has been instructed to learn why the State's Attorney had not convened a special Grand Jury, why the coroner's inquest has not been held and why these officials repeatedly refused to authorize Col. Hunter to call for troops, even after the miners had marched on the mine. He also had been instructed, it was understood, to learn why Sheriff Thaxton repeatedly told Col. Hunter that he could handle the situation and yet ignored Col. Hunter's request that some preparations for an emergency be made.

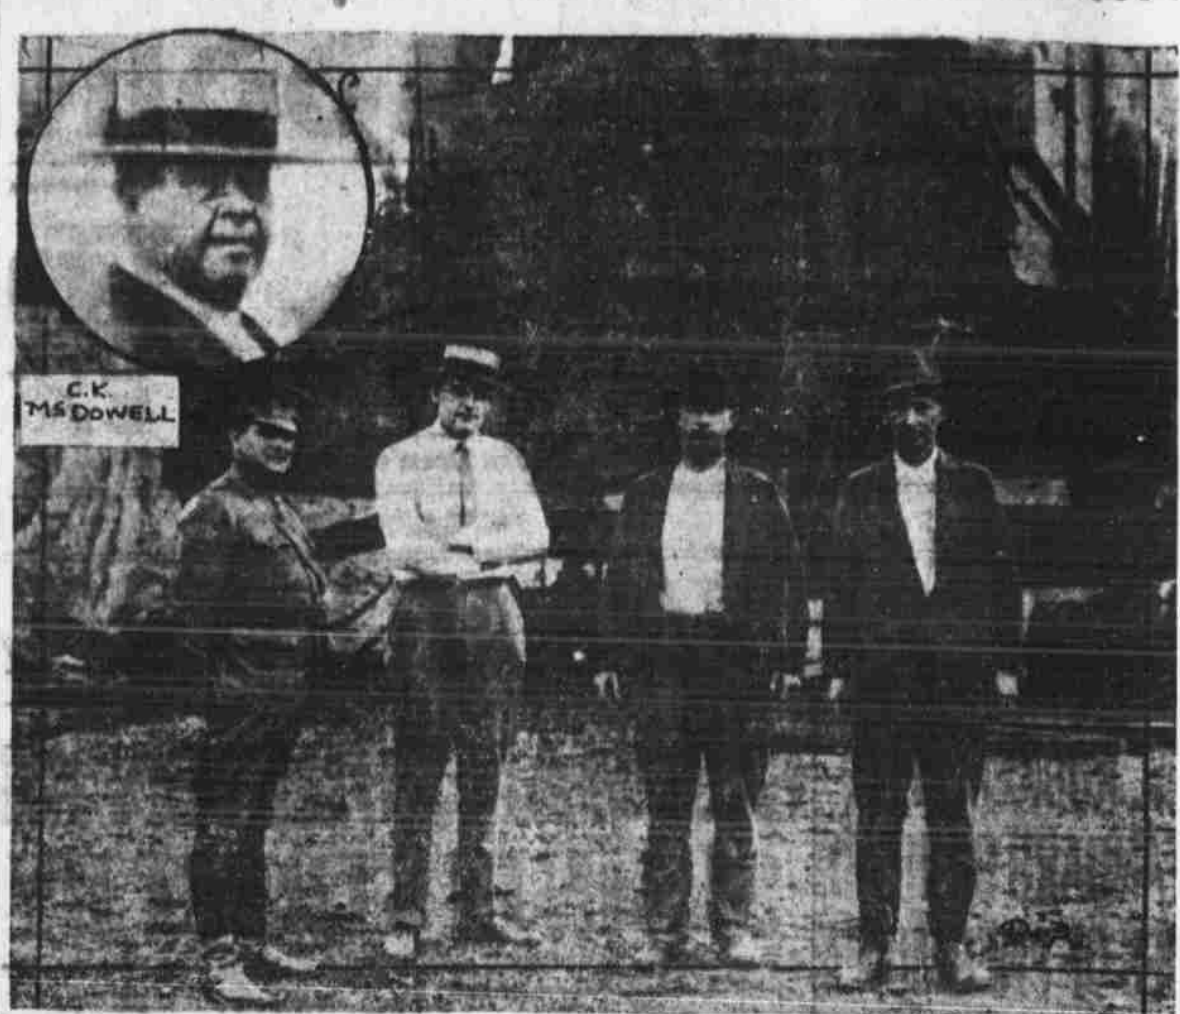

Failure of the local officials to send out an adequate force of deputies when the fighting began also was a point to be investigated.

Comment on the strike expressed resentment over the sending of the military board, although officials said they would gladly co-operate with it. The situation in the county was made considerably more tense for a short time last night when scores of caretakers, guarding the mines during the strike through agreement between owners and unions, quit work under threats from groups of miners. Shortly afterward Hugh Willis, district board member of the union, and other officials persuaded them to return after mine guards had been stationed to protect them. Had the men remained many millions of dollars worth of mines could have been ruined through flooding within a few days. These caretakers are not union men.

Estimates of the amount of property damage and determination of the cold figures to be fixed as the legal value of human lives lost were being completed to-day in preparation for the damage suits which the Southern Illinois Coal Company announced will be filed against the International Union of the United Mine Workers and the county.

The suits will aggregate more than $1,000,000, according to Follett W. Bull, counsel for William J. Lester, President of the company.

First Pictures at Scene of Massacre Of 25 to 40 Non-Union Coal Miners

Here are first pictures of the Illinois mine war, where 25 to 40 men were killed and many more injured and missing in a pitched battle at the Southern Illinois Coal Company's mine at Herrin, Ill.

The tracks, buildings and thousands of dollars worth of equipment were dynamited as the battle took place amid the uproar of 5,000 miners.

Photo shows men in charge at scene of battle: Col. Samuel N. Hunter, Illinois National Guard; Sheriff Thaxton of Williamson County, and Deputy Sheriff J. A. Schafer.

Insert is a new and exclusive photo of C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the imported mine workers, who was first to be selected to be shot and killed by the attacking mine strikers in a pitched battle between the striking employees and the imported mine workers.

He was dragged but by the attackers, tied to an automobile and after being riddled with bullets and mangled was left on the road near the mine.

Funeral of Field Marshal on Monday to Be Marked by Simplicity.

LONDON, June 24 (Associated Press).—Twelve of the seventeen men detained as a result of raids after the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson were released to-day.

Simplicity will be the keynote of Monday's service at St. Paul's, when the Field Marshal is laid to rest in the tiny chapel where Lord Roberts and Gen. Wolseley are buried. Only one hymn, "O, God Our Help in Ages Past," will be sung. The anthem "We Believe That Jesus Died" and Stanford's setting of "I Heard a Voice From Heaven" will be rendered. After playing of the "Dead March" from Saul, the "Last Post" will be sounded with a final note of hope and exultation, "Reveille."

MINE UNION SUE TO RESTRAIN ACTS
IN INDIANA FIELD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 24 (Associated Press).—The United Mine Workers of America and all its officers and members were made defendants in a suit for an injunction filed in United States District Court here to-day by Clara Mason, owner of the Peacock Coal Mine in Knox County, Indiana.

The Court is asked to restrain union miners from continuing activities aimed at closing so-called wagon mines of the State. John L. Lewis was made a defendant to the suit, as President of the United Mine Workers of America, and as an individual.

Action against the union as an organization is brought under the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Corcoran Coal case, whereby it was held that a labor organization is sueable.

FINDS BREWERY MODEL 3,700 YRS. OLD SHOWING PROCESS

Handful of Barley Also Discovered in Egyptian Excavation.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 24. A model of an Egyptian brewery, approximately 3,700 years old, has recently been discovered here by Dr. Flinders Petrie of the University of Pennsylvania.

The model, which is believed to date back to 1800 B. C., shows a dozen employees making beer from barley. A handful of barley was also preserved, but little except the outside hulls was left.

Dr. Petrie has dispatched the model to the University of Pennsylvania where it will be placed in the museum.

Young Smiley And His Glasses Vanish Again

Police for Third Time Seek Youngster to Whom "New Eyes" Gave Wanderlust.

Jerome C. Smiley, Jr., eight year old, of No. 805 West 189th Street, is believed to be out again to-day seeing the world through his new glasses. His father is in the advertising department of McCall's Magazine. The boy has been missing since noon yesterday, and Police Headquarters sent out a general alarm for him early to-day.

It is not the first time the 10-year-old son of New York policemen has been watching for Jerome Jr. Not long ago he disappeared and was found viewing the sights of Yonkers. Shortly afterward he vanished again, and this time he was found adjourning at Long Branch.

And right here fits in the story of his new glasses. Jerome had been getting behind in his studies at school and his parents had his eyes examined. The doctor said Jerome needed glasses and a nice pair of gold-rimmed ones were bought.

He straightway began climbing his glasses at school, but developed an insatiable mania for seeing the outside world. Everything seemed to look so much better to him he wanted to roam about, and did.

That is believed to be all that is back of his new attack of wanderlust.

EXODUS OF MINERS FROM WAR DISTRICT

150, Believed to Be Union
Men, Leave Coal Fields.

CARBONDALE, Ill., June 24 (Associated Press).—More than 150 miners from the Herrin district passed through here last night and early to-day, going out of the coal fields. They were believed to be union men. Those that could be approached would give no reason for this exodus and the names of the men were likewise not available.

END CHINA MUTINY; REPORT 4,000 DEAD; FOREIGNERS SAFE

Women Missionaries Tied to Natives Are Freed, Leader Says.

PEKING, June 24 (Associated Press).—The great of the mutiny which has drenched Kiangsi Province with blood apparently is past. Best reports place the death toll at more than 4,000, indicate severe damage in four cities, but do not indicate that foreigners have been molested.

No word has been received from 400 Chinese Christian converts reported imprisoned in the compounds of the Catholic Lazarist Mission at Taiho since they were besieged there Thursday by mutineers except their original appeal for aid.

Latest reports are that foreigners, except doctors attending wounded have left Nanchang, although that city is quiet.

SHANGHAI, June 24.—Foreign missionaries captured by mutinous Chinese troops and driven toward the mountains tied to natives have been released, according to Gen. Yuch, commander of the rebellious forces. Gen. Yuch asserted the mutineers released the missionaries through fear that British and American gunboats would punish them.

Half the foreign population has fled, according to a despatch from Nanchang, seat of the trouble, but missionaries are remaining in the belief that gunboats will protect them.

Gen. Yuch sums up the situation as follows: "The mutineers cannot control the marauders, according to the Nanchang message, which said 2,000 mutinous troops were approaching that city, burning and looting as they marched."

Miss Muir had been up all night attending her sister, who has been ill. She was last seen alive by her brother-in-law shortly after midnight, sitting at her sister's bedside reading.

DR. SUN "SOLD OUT" BY FRIENDS; SAYS HE WILL FIGHT ON

In Battle for Humanity, Adds
Deposed President of Canton Regime.

HONGKONG, June 24 (Associated Press).—Sun Yat Sen, who claims the Presidency of China through virtue of his election by members of the old Parliament who collaborated with him in the Southern Government at Canton, has not resigned his office. He will not resign under force, he declared in an interview on board the cruiser on which he escaped from Canton when the city was captured recently by forces of Gen. Chen Ching Min. Dr. Sun asserted that the southern navy was still loyal to him.

"I am the victim of the treachery of my subordinates and supposed friends," he said. "As a man and a patriot, I am going to set an example for future generations, and will not submit to the force brought to bear by the Peking leaders."

"After six years they now admit they were wrong by reconvening Parliament and ratifying the Constitution. They want to reap the advantage and eliminate those who fought for these things."

"I am going to fight for humanity and civilization, republicanism and righteousness. I have not resigned and will not resign to force. I will only give my resignation to Parliament, not to subordinates."

The foregoing despatch would appear to establish definitely the whereabouts of Sun Yat Sen, deposed head of the Southern Government, who, within the past few days, has been reported as captured by the United China forces, fleeing from Canton to Shanghai and cruising about one of his warships in the West River, near Canton, sometimes bombarding that city.

Catskill Inns Jazzed Dry by "Thirsty" Trio

Agents Pose as Artists, Get Trial—and Drinks—and Seize Evidence.

When one considers the varied accomplishments and talents that a successful prohibition agent must possess, one wonders why a successful prohibition agent sticks to such a meagrely rewarded job. It must be pride or something.

Take Agents Reager, Gallante and McKay, for instance, whose feats in fooling lawbreakers read like detective fiction. They have just returned from a trip to the Catskill Mountains and while they nabbed as many as four persons in two different places for violation of the Volstead Act, the Catskill Mountains must be pretty dry about now.

However, it is not so much what the gifted agents did as the way they did it. The ordinary individual bent upon obtaining evidence of violation of the law would walk into a saloon or hotel bar and ask for a drink and arrest the seller. There is no class to that sort of work.

Reager, Gallante and McKay, according to their own report to their gratified boss, drifted into Tannersville to investigate a report that Renee Le to, proprietor of the Black Masque Cabaret, was selling hard liquor. They represented themselves as a vaudeville combination known as the "Syncopeating Trio," and made their terms so reasonable Lete agreed to give them a trial.

With relations thus established, they betrayed evidences of thirst and willingness to buy. Not dreaming his own employees would turn upon him, Lete, according to the agents, called John Weaver, a waiter, and ordered him to produce whiskey. When it was produced, Lete and Weaver were arrested.

Still posing as the "Syncopeating Trio," the agents went to Haines Falls and hired out to Rush W. Renner, proprietor of Renner's Mountain Inn. Having gained Renner's confidence, they persuaded him to sell them three drinks and then arrested him and a waiter.

The trip to and from the Catskill Mountains is very enjoyable this time of year, especially if made by boat.

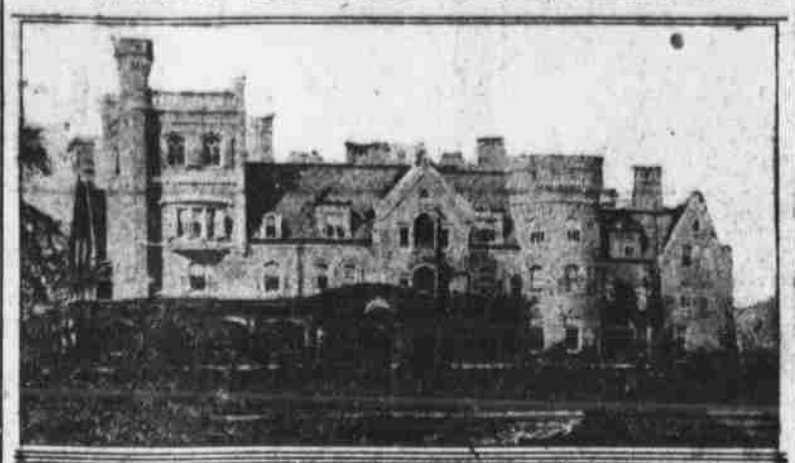

TAXI DRIVER AND TWO HELD AS TIRE THIEVES

Two Are Taken After 25-Block Chase on Broadway.

A two-mile automobile chase down upper Broadway, with detectives in a high-powered limousine overhauling a trio of alleged auto tire thieves in a taxi cab early to-day, gave a thrill to Washington Heights residents. The alleged thieves were taken to headquarters on a charge of attempted grand larceny. The Broadway chase started at 160th Street and ended at 134th. The prisoners gave their names as John Dorsey, twenty, of No. 264 West 32nd Street; Fred O'Hara, No. 185 West End Avenue; and George Tobin, No. 143 West End Avenue.

Detectives say the latter two untrapped the reserve tire from the parked auto of Mr. Morris Anderson, of No. 1480 University Avenue, the Bronx, and were about to put it in the taxi when they saw the detectives. They dropped the tire and jumped into the taxi cab and fled.

RETAILERS BRAND CHARGES AGAINST PAPERS AS UNTRUE

McCumber Should Prove or Withdraw Assertions, Dry Goods Men Say.

The Executive Committee of the National Retail Dry Goods Association to-day addressed an open letter to Senator McCumber of the Finance Committee denying his charges of June 14 that the American newspapers were venally subservient to advertisers and that American merchants were profiteering tremendously at the expense of the people.

The McCumber charge, as quoted from the Congressional Record, was that "the great metropolitan newspapers to-day are attacking the tariff bill because their prosperity for the moment depends upon the prosperity of their advertisers, and that with every metropolitan paper the mouthpiece of the importer who buys its advertising pages the very foundation of the temple of protection is being undermined by this insidious propaganda."

The association's letter says that while the answer should properly come from the newspapers, the association desires to record its belief that the charge is untrue and unsupported, and unworthy of the Chairman of so important a committee.

"For the good of our American institutions this assertion," the letter says, "should either be proved or withdrawn."

The arguments to refute the charge of profiteering, the letter reads, have the backing of the investigations of a responsible independent organization and of three important Government commissions and agencies. In regard to the McCumber statement that a watch bought abroad for $1 is sold in this country for $9.45, making a spread of $8.45, while not questioning the accuracy of the amounts, the letter says:

"The truth as to the 'profit' is, of course, entirely different from your statement, because to the foreign cost must be added the cost of foreign buying, inland freight, abroad, consular fees, freight and insurance, duty to the United States Government, custom house charges, general overhead, the cost of doing business in this country and Federal and other taxes. The spread between the cost so determined and the price at which the goods are sold is the true profit."

The articles selected, the letter states, to give the impression of big profits are not important or representative of the imports which come into America, nor do they reflect the general condition of the trade. Continuing, the letter reads:

"In view of your charges that the newspapers are controlled by their large advertisers it is interesting to note that for a period of six or eight months the press of this country carried on a hue and cry against the retail stores, although the members of our trade were large users of their advertising columns. The investigation by the Department of Justice convinced the press that the charges were unfounded and the campaign was not only in fairness discontinued but hundreds of papers apologized editorially."

MT. EVEREST CLIMB MAY BE ABANDONED

Explorers Fall in Third and Final Attempt.

LONDON, June 24 (Associated Press).—An Evening News despatch from Calcutta to-day says the Mount Everest expedition may be abandoned. The third and final attempt to reach the summit, the message says, only added 100 feet to the record.

No further progress is expected, adds the despatch, as all the explorers are more or less incapacitated owing to hardships. It is believed the whole party is returning to Darjeeling.

NATION-WIDE PLAN BY WOMEN'S CLUBS TO CELEBRATE 4TH

of Communities to Follow Programme.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 24.—Plans for a Nation-wide observance of July 4 were made at the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs here to-day. Thousands of communities, it is expected, will follow the programme for civic celebrations outlined by Mrs. Percy V. Speeches on Americanization and citizenship were the feature of to-day's sessions of the convention. Mrs. Josephine Corlies Preston, Superintendent of Education in the State of Washington, announced that the women of forty-two States have organized programmes of community service, and Mrs. John C. Pearson of Marshall, Okla., reported that the course of study outlined by the federation is in use in the preparation for naturalization in nearly all of the States.

Other speakers of the day included Hanford MacNider, Commander of the American Legion; Mrs. Cora Willson Stewart of Frankfort, Ky., originator of the Moonlight Schools, and Hamilton E. McArthur of New Haven, Conn., who talked on the Junior City Plan.

To-night is President's night, and Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, President of the federation, who was a member of the President's Advisory Committee for the Conference on Limitation of Armaments, will speak on the "Arms Conference and Afterward."

WOMAN DISARMS THUG IN STORE

Hold-Up Man Kills Himself
After She Leads Pursuit to River.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Pursued for several miles by a posse of Maryland farmers, after the revolver with which he attempted to hold up Mrs. George H. Shannon in her store at Fort Foote, near here, had been knocked from his hand by the courageous woman, who then led in the chase, a man identified as Malcolm Miller, twenty-eight, of this city, committed suicide last night after wading out to a sand dredger in the Potomac River.

Mrs. Shannon, with her husband and a constable, had rushed into the water after Miller when he fired the shot into his own brain.

After knocking the weapon from her assailant's hand when he asked for the contents of the cash drawer, Mrs. Shannon had taken down a shotgun, while the man recovered his revolver, and fired at him, but without effect.

He Left for Part in War.

LONDON, June 24.—Field Marshal Earl Haig is shortly to re-enter the liquor trade, with which he was formerly connected as a director of the prominent firm of John Haig & Co.

The controlling interest in the company was acquired in 1915 by the Distillers' Company, Limited, of Edinburgh, holding corporation for one of the largest group of whiskey distilleries in the world. The Field Marshal will join the Distillers' Board in July.

His family has been connected with the Haig Company since 1877, his father having been one of the founders.

More than 4,000,000 francs will be involved in the repair work.

SAYS DEMOCRATS FIGHT TARIFF FOR POLITICAL ENDS

Senator Townsend Declares
They Have No Purpose of Improving Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Charging that the Democratic fight on the pending Tariff Bill was for political purposes and not with the idea of improving the bill, Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, asserted in the Senate to-day that the country was weary of "the interminable debate which has dragged its weary length through the days and nights of the past eight weeks."

"Every Senator must have noticed," he said, "that two or three Democratic Senators are apparently operating in relays and when one gets tired the other relieves him. And yet, we are told there is no filibuster on 'The object that these Senators have in mind is political. Is it not strange that these gentlemen, who are more interested in party success than in passing a good revenue bill, should try to delay the enactment of a law which they insist will destroy the Republican Party? What these Senators fear most is the passage of the bill a sufficient time before election to get a practical test of just what effect it will have upon the general prosperity of the country. They doubt the tested logic of their own argument, and under the existing rules of the Senate they can, and probably will, prevent action on this measure until late in the summer or fall."

Senator Townsend said the history of the debate on the bill showed how "wise" it would have been for the Senate to have amended its rules, as he suggested at the opening of the session, so as to limit discussion. He added that had this been done "our work now would have been practically completed."

"Congress could adjourn," he said, "and the country could be given a rest from the petty debate which prolongs the enactment of legislation and holds the business of the country in suspense. I am in favor of proceeding to the business of amending the rules now, even if such action should postpone the tariff and other measures indefinitely."

Of the Tariff Bill itself, Senator Townsend said he was not satisfied with all the rates, regarding some as too high, and would vote against them, but that there should be a revision of the tariff, despite chaotic conditions existing in the world. He added that the industry and business of the country demanded an early determination of the tariff question.

New Orleans Judge Enjoins Police Department.

NEW ORLEANS, June 24.—Mayor McShane was checked here late yesterday in his effort to prevent the speech of Marcus Garvey, President of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, and known as the "Negro Moses."

The injunction was granted on the ground that the city had no right to interfere with liberty of speech.
